COLONIAL ECHO of PROGRESS

*Published by the students of WILLIAM AND MARY COLLEGE
WILLIAMSBURG, Virginia.
Nineteen hundred & twenty eight.*

DEDICATION

Since the theme of this volume is progress, the staff has chosen for its dedication, one who has, during his association with the college, been the exponent of everything progressive, yet who has at the same time preserved with progress every ideal and tradition from which William and Mary sprang. And so it is with respect, appreciation, and admiration that we dedicate this 1928 edition of the

W. A. R. Goodwin, D.D.

Professor of Biblical Literature and Religious Education

and

Rector of Bruton Parish Church

1732

The president's house and the college chapel erected.

1859

February 8th, the Main Building was burned.

Rebuilt October, 1859.

FOREWORD

No greater treasure has man on earth than memories, and no sweeter memories exist for one than those centered around his or her college days, and so it has been the aim and purpose of the staff to catch and to instill throughout the general theme of this COLONIAL ECHO the spirits and atmospheres of life at the college in order that these days may be recalled to mind at will by only a glance within its pages. If we fail in realizing our ambitions, we hope that the reader will forgive and realize the gigantic scope of such a task, but if we succeed, we shall feel that our efforts have not been in vain.

The Flat Hat Club is the oldest living college organization in America, having been founded at the College of William and Mary on November 11, 1750, thus antedating the Phi Beta Kappa Society by twenty-six years. On its rolls may be found the names of Jefferson and others of the college's famous alumni, including the long list of notables in the Spotswood Club of Old Virginia.

In spite of all efforts to attract the Society into other colleges, it has consistently maintained a policy which is opposed to expansion, preferring to remain local and retain its tradition.

Omicron Delta Kappa was founded at Washington and Lee University in December, 1914. The Eta Circle was established at the College of William and Mary in 1921. It recognizes eminence in all forms of college activities and has for its purpose the bringing together of the campus leaders for the general good of the institution in one body.

It is recognized as one of the highest honors that can be given an undergraduate student, because of the ideals and standards which it holds.

Sigma Upsilon, an honorary literary fraternity, was founded in 1906 by the union of four local literary groups in various southern colleges. It grants membership primarily on ability and interest in literature and usually elects twice a year from the members of the three upper classes.

Sigma Upsilon was the third honorary fraternity on the campus of William and Mary, having been organized here in 1914. It was preceded by the F. H. C. Society and by Phi Beta Kappa.

The professional forensic fraternity of Phi Delta Gamma was founded in 1924 to foster interest in literary work, debating, and dramaturgy. This, William and Mary Chapter, was one of the original chapters and has steadily grown in influence on this campus by stimulating intersociety rather than intercollegiate forensics since its founding.

It invites inquiry on and constructive criticism of all branches of forensics through its official organ, "The Literary Scroll."

Alpha Kappa Psi is a professional commercial fraternity that limits its membership to students who are seeking a degree in business. It was the first national fraternity of its kind and was the first to admit students of evening college classes.

The Omega Chapter was founded here in 1921 and has kept pace with the growth of the School of Business Administration, until it has become one of the strongest honorary organizations on the campus.

As a result of the remarkable growth of the Department of Education here, Kappa Phi Kappa established a chapter at the College in 1925. The fraternity is a national professional educational society, which is open to all white male students who are taking, or have taken, courses in the Department of Education. Membership is not limited to undergraduate students, but is attainable by both graduates and faculty members.

The chapter here on the campus is recognized as one of the best organizations here.

J. R. JONES

Sigma Pi Sigma has not yet been on the campus a year as a national organization, having existed prior to June, 1927, as the Phi Delta, local honorary physics fraternity. Sigma Pi Sigma has the distinction of being the only national physics fraternity in the country. In spite of its extreme youth it is already proving itself a virile and healthy organization.

Eligibility rules require a student to be taking an advanced course in physics and to be making a grade that is above the average. This group of men has always been interested in the Department of Physics here and co-operates with it on all occasions.

Beta Alpha Psi, organized at the University of Illinois in February, 1919, is a national professional accounting fraternity, which has as its purpose the fostering of the ideal of service in accountancy, the acting as a medium between professional men, instructors, students, and any others who are interested in accounting, the encouraging of high moral, scholastic, and professional standards in its members, and the developing of cordial intercourse among its members and the members of the profession. It is only open to students who are taking accounting with a view of making it their profession.

The Alpha Club was established at William and Mary several years ago to serve as a medium through which the leaders of the girls' student body might discuss the problems confronting them. It recognizes pre-eminence in the various fields of campus activity and brings the leaders into close touch with each other. Membership is restricted to seniors and is the highest undergraduate honor that a woman can obtain.

Chi Delta Phi was founded at the University of Tennessee in 1919 and the Theta Chapter was established here in 1922. Its purpose is to form a body of women, who by their interest in literature and by their influence will uphold the highest ideals of a liberal education. It corresponds to the Sigma Upsilon literary fraternity in its purpose and ideals, its founding having been agitated by a former national secretary of the Sigma Upsilon fraternity.

Kappa Delta Pi is an honorary educational fraternity for juniors and seniors who have a grade above the average and have completed some work in education. Its distinguishing feature is that it has a Laureate Chapter composed of leading educators throughout the country. On this campus it forms an interested professional group in one of the largest departments of the College.

TASKER, Coach

Todd, Assistant Coach

DAVIS Captain

Viewed from the standpoint of actual field victories the 1927 football season of William and Mary would not be judged a crowning success. To those, however, who were acquainted with the handicaps the team had to overcome and who witnessed the efforts of Coach Tasker and Captain Davis to build up a new fighting machine, the season was highly satisfactory. When the season opened the coaches were faced with the problem of assimilating new material and the residue of what in recent years had been a heavy team.

The team lost the first two games, and tied the Thanksgiving Day game with Richmond, but mid-season clashes were marked by constant good playing.

SEPTEMBER 24TH

This hard-fought game inaugurated the use of the new lights on Cary field and introduced night football in the East. The largest crowd that ever witnessed a football game at Williamsburg saw Catholic University hammer its way down the field twice for touchdowns. Captain Davis and Bloxom, the "midget back," featured for the Indians.

OCTOBER 1ST

An unfortunate slip in the Indians attack in the first quarter gave Syracuse a "love game," and for the fifth successive time the Orangemen emerged victorious over the Taskerites. Fighting under a boiling sun, William and Mary outplayed Syracuse in the first quarter and advanced the ball to their opponent's five-yard line, but were thrown for a twenty-yard loss on the fourth down. The quarter ended without a score. In the second quarter, Barbuti, an old scorer against the Indians, swung into action, and the Northerners scored three times before the game was finished.

OCTOBER 8TH

A deluging rainstorm that blurred the flood lights and turned Cary field into a sea of mud failed to dampen the ardor of a large crowd that saw William and Mary wallow, dive and all but swim to a victory over the Wildcats from North Carolina. The end of the first half brought a heavier downfall of rain, but a loyal throng of students remained to watch, cheer and shiver through a scoreless second half.

In what was probably the hardest and best fought game of the season the Indians administered a scare to the unbeaten "Devil Dogs" and smeared their clean record with two touchdowns. The Marines scored the deciding touchdown in the second half when William and Mary was penalized to the one-foot line.

CONCORD STATE, 7; WILLIAM AND MARY, 13

OCTOBER 22ND

William and Mary literally ran away with the game in the second half and emerged victorious from the last night game of the season. Concord's single touchdown was scored in the first half before the Varsity and relieved the second string men, who had started the game.

Although the Indians lost they repeated, to some extent, the performance against the Marines, and twisted the Tiger's tail for the first touchdown of the season in Palmer stadium. The Indians' weakness lay chiefly in their constant fumbling.

CHATTANOOGA, 12; WILLIAM AND MARY, 7

NOVEMBER 5TH

A large crowd of students went to Norfolk and saw Maister catch a beautiful low pass and run twenty yards for a touchdown. The Indians might have scored another in the first quarter, but the old fumbling weakness cropped out again, and so close to the goal line that the ball rolled over only to have a Moccasin recover and bring it out.

The Indians invaded Roanoke Armistice Day and charged with a rush into their first state game. The opening attack netted three first downs and wound up in a touchdown. In the second quarter Roanoke resorted to baffling passes, scored and kicked the goal, taking the lead. The Indians retaliated in full force in the last quarter with two touchdowns. No goals were kicked.

full play Thanksgiving Day when the Indians invaded Richmond, apparently set for victory. The game ended without a touchdown for either side, although the Taskerites had put the ball over twice in rapid succession. The first touchdown proved to be barely a few inches out of bounds, and the second, immediately afterward, was ineffective because one player was off-side.

This game marked the passing from the gridiron of four William and Mary athletes: Captain Davis, Eason, Elliott and Cook. All have served for four years and they will leave shoes hard to fill in the seasons to come.

Basketball

A star aggregation such as William and Mary never before has boasted made possible the most successful basketball season this year that the Indians ever experienced. Although misfortune dogged the team early in the season, Captain Meb Davis and his stalwarts finished the scheduled twenty games with only five defeats and won the Virginia Collegiate championship with a clean slate. Each of the five defeats was registered outside of the Virginia Collegiate Conference.

Even before the season opened it was evident that William and Mary had a team that could not fail to produce a sensation. Observers who watched the new court men were unanimous in the prophecy that the Indians were due an eventful season. A feature of the situation was the fact that only one of the first string team finally chosen was an upper classman. That man was Captain Meb Davis. Although the Indians made no attempt at an alibi, at least one defeat outside the conference was attributed to this fact. In the Washington and Lee game all of the regular team was barred from the court except Captain Davis because of the conference rules which forbade the freshmen playing on the team of the varsity.

Features of the season were the double defeat of the University of Richmond, an accomplishment which few William and Mary teams have been able to boast of, and the high point scoring of Abe Silverman, who is a star forward. Early in January Richmond came to Williamsburg and went home defeated. Later in the month Coach Tasker's men went to Richmond and defeated the Spiders on their home court.

Silverman achieved the distinction of high point scoring for the state and had a total of 225 points to his credit. He and Ralph Ferrandini led the Indian scorers—Ferrandini had second place with a score of 110 points, and Mozeleski had third place.

In December the Indians made their first trip and were defeated by the Catholic University and the Naval Academy. The defeats showed the team its weaknesses at the beginning of the season, and by the time the Indians were ready for the second trip, which was in the first week of January, Coach Tasker had built up his uncertain spots. The second trip brought better results. The Indian team beat Hampden-Sidney, Roanoke, and Lynchburg, but lost to Washington and Lee.

When the Indians beat Richmond, January 17, they were accorded the third place in the state, the University of Virginia and Washington and Lee holding first and second places respectively. By January 20 Silverman was showing the form that later produced such a sensation, and he had up to that time scored eighty-eight points. Previously he had thirty out of thirty-four fouls. Ferrandini had assumed second place with fifty-two points, and Davis and Light had tied for third place, each having thirty-two points. After the January exams the team launched into its most strenuous week, trimming Emory and Henry, Stevens Tech, Wake Forest and Richmond, all in rapid succession. In the series of games each of the five first men showed up to full worth, and all men were praised by the press and fans for skillful court work.

By February 10, Silverman had scored 118, and writers unofficially accorded him first place in the state. Ferrandini was running second at William and Mary with seventy-five. In the next two weeks Silverman was to run up more than one hundred additional baskets.

The third trip, early in February, carried the team into North Carolina, where they were to receive another defeat at the hands of Guilford. This was offset, however, by victories over Wake Forest and Elon.

The following week, being the last of the season, witnessed two big games. On one night the team took revenge on Guilford, and in the last game of the year swamped Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute 50 to 19.

The season centered the attention of Virginia sports writers on the fast Indian quintet, all of whom, with the exception of Captain Davis, are expected to play again next fall under the captaincy of "Waffles" Winn. All of William and Mary's players, first and second string alike, received the accord of the sports observers. The freshman team, which will have valuable material for the coming year, completed a successful season. The total Indian score in the 1927-1928 season was 692 as against 545 scored by opponents.

THE VARSITY SQUAD

Baseball

Baseball Season, 1926-27

Many high spots marked the Indians' season on the diamond for the spring of '27. Coach Tasker and his charges undertook perhaps the most difficult schedule ever attempted by a William and Mary nine and came through with a record that signified effort and good results. The biggest accomplishment was the even break that the Green, Gold and Silver got with each of the Big Three by losing one to and winning one from each of these institutions.

The first of the year presented the great problem of building up a team around the very few veterans who had returned, but the end of the season found the locals possessing a well rounded nine of exceptional ability on the field and at the bat. Captain Thompson, Bloxom and Ayers of the infield, and Eason of the outer garden, and Stickle and Taylor from the pitching staff were the only veterans returning. The remainder of the team was picked from the previous year's freshman team and new men in college.

The season opened with a great victory over Yale in a game which boasted of a most dramatic climax. Every spectator will remember Eason's home run in the ninth frame that clinched the victory. The next contest on the home grounds went to Holy Cross, although the locals well outlit the visitors. Harvard and Princeton, however, took two games in rapid succession but left the Indians primed for two gridiron opponents—Syracuse and Lynchburg. Jim Wallace held the former to one hit for a victory, and Eason's bat routed the latter to set the Indians on their feet again. A severe drubbing for the Randolph Macon Yellow Jackets was the next accomplishment of the tribe.

The Richmond jinx again manifested itself and the Spiders succeeded in rapping the Indian nine in the first game of a two-game series. Another win over Randolph Macon primed the Indians for revenge, and revenge they got in the return game with Richmond on Cary Field when the Tribe took the long end of the score in a closely contested fray. Wake Forest continued their streak and gave the Indians the worst drubbing received during the year.

On the annual Northern trip the Warriors made the best showing of the year. Return games with Princeton and Harvard proved profitable to the Indian cause, and established the locals well up in the world of baseball.

Captain Thompson and Mac Zion ended their diamond careers and handed over the hopes of the coming season to Captain Eason and his teammates.

TRACK

Track prospects for the spring are very bright, and all indications point towards another championship team. Yet the squad will miss greatly the service of the group that was lost by graduation. Among these were Captain "Tiny" Grove, giant weight man; Tom Yates, sterling quarter-miler; Lee Todd, weights; Spike Smith, weights, and Ed Taylor, jumps. The team also suffered as a result of the failure of Baggett, Caplan, Graham and Davila to return.

However, Coach Chandler has a wealth of material upon which he can call. The proposed schedule promises meets of the finest caliber, and ones which will call for the very best in track ability to claim a win. Such teams as Harvard, Navy, Johns Hopkins, Catholic University, V. P. I., Maryland and Richmond go towards making a card to meet the most skeptical approval.

From the last years varsity the mentors have a number of seasoned veterans. Captain Mel Davis still exhibits old form on the hurdles and in the jumps. As usual he can be depended on to come through right up in front. The other letter men who have returned are Davis, Green, Gresham, Daughtery, Campbell, Kent, Thomas and Justis.

In the dashes Green and Davis are on hand with assistance from several freshmen of promise. The middle distances will be well taken care of by Daughtery and Gresham, with Babb, from last year's frosh squad, as understudy.

The distance runs should not trouble Coach Chandler, for Campbell, with much freshman auxiliary force, is again on hand. The hurdles and jumps find Thomas and Davis back with Kent and Durham vaulting in old style. Ed Justis is the only letter man handling the field events, but available material is on hand from the squad of last year.

The 1927 season ended very successfully for the Indians. By virtue of wins over Richmond and Randolph Macon the locals established just claims to the state Class B title. Unless some unforeseen circumstance intervenes and upsets the regular course of events, the team of 1928 will repeat.

Mention should be made of the Cross-country and Relay teams. Both are continuing successful and add victory after victory to their records.

Another season without a defeat. Two years of games with teams surpassed only by our own fighting Indianettes, and every game a victory. The team of '28 met the girls of Richmond Medical College, Sweet Briar, Lynchburg, New York University, Adelphi and George Washington University and made an unforgettable record against these opponents.

The opening game on February 4 with the Richmond Medical College girls was a complete victory for William and Mary, ending with a score of 37 to 10.

On February 11 the team left for Lynchburg, where they played the Sweet Briar team. Sweet Briar came up with fast shooting forwards, but our team was inspired by the tireless fight of our guards and played up to a score of 34 to 20. The work and strain of the game was easily forgotten in the pleasure of the royal entertainment given our team by the Sweet Briar girls on that evening.

Back again on the home floor on February 18, playing Lynchburg College, opponents that we met two years ago in Lynchburg, the old varsity checked the rush of the Lynchburg six by their skill and speed. The final score was: William and Mary 34, Lynchburg 23.

Then the much planned for Northern trip, New York bound, March 3, and we crashed through Adelphi with another victory though the game was a little slow and stiff in comparison with the previous games with Adelphi.

Sunday in New York didn't seem to cramp the team's style, and though the overwhelming last year's score of 47 to 15 was a thing of the past, on Monday 5 we led New York University again by a score of 30 to 28. The game was made even more interesting by the cheers of William and Mary alumni now on the New York University faculty.

Last, but not least, the memorable George Washington University game on our home floor March 17. We'll never forget it. The work of our guards was nothing short of magnificent, and the unfailing captain, Lena DeShazo, with her hard playing and her beautiful shooting totaled her season's goals for 112 points by bringing up the score with the help of her team to 29 to 26, with William and Mary on top. The playing of the George Washington team was of a very high order, and we consider this victory the greatest achievement of our team of '28.

A COLLEGE EDUCATION—DOES IT GUARANTEE THIS?

Do the books you study, the lectures you attend at William and Mary teach you adequately how to guard against the pitfalls incident to experience in the world of business? Do they impress upon you the age-old truth that unless thrift be the practice of youth, penury may be the portion of old age?

Life beyond college days becomes an uncertain quantity. That you may mitigate its evils, let nothing delay you in creating a life insurance estate through one of the numerous Endowment plans offered by

Soph: "What is a definition for a college professor?"

Junior: "A man who is paid to study sleeping conditions among students."

Professor Bailey (in physics class): "Mr. Porter, what's a conductor for electricity?"

Porter (awakening): "Why er—er."

Professor Bailey: "Correct."

* * *

Ganter: "How did Mac come out at the handsome man contest at the college ball?"

Barrett: "He won by a bare majority."

Ganter: "I knew he'd get the coed's vote."

* * *

Mac O'Ferrall: "Dauba, do you know that every man has to start at the bottom of his business and work up?"

Dauba: "I can't."

Mac: "Why?"

Dauba: "Because I am going to be a well digger."

* * *

Pat Patterson: "Say, Milton, why is an old maid like a bad lemon?"

Milton White: "Give it up."

Pat: "Because neither is worth a squeeze."

* * *

Francis Thomson: "Jack's heart is in the right place."

Charlotte: "What makes you say that?"

Francis: "Because he laid it at my feet yesterday."

* * *

Soph: "Have you heard that Sadie is engaged?"

Senior: "No, who's the plucky man?"
